

Unqualifiedly Best.

The garments are right at hand to prove that Calvert Clothes are not simply the best available—but the best that can be produced. Not a ready-made pattern is numbered among ours.

The faults of "ready-made" fit and the clumsiness of "ready-made" making are conspicuous for their absence in the Calvert Clothes.

If ever there were distinctive models and exclusive patterns and high-grade makemanship and accurate fit—you'll find all these essential virtues in Calvert Clothes.

Suits . . . $20 to $45
Top-coats $25 to $50

There are no worries with a Calvert Straw Hat or a Calvert Panama. They're standards.

Calvert taste selected the best Manhattan shirt patterns—and they've been confined to us.

DISTRICT TO BID FOR CANAL SHOW

House Probably Will Select City at This Session.

San Francisco will make another effort today to commit Congress to that city as the place for the celebration in 1915 of the opening of the Panama Canal. A resolution similar to the Kahn resolution in the House, has been introduced in the Senate by Senator Perkins. It authorizes the President to invite foreign nations to participate in an exposition to be held in that year in the Pacific Coast city.

On this resolution there will be a hearing this morning before the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, when the California delegation now here, headed by Gov. Gillett, will ask for an immediate and favorable report.

Representative Butler Ames, of Massachusetts, a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, is anxious to safeguard the interests of Boston. He wants to know whether Boston, which was first in the field with a plan for an international exposition in 1915, is still anxious for an exposition there. If she is, Ames feels that no hasty action should be taken by Congress until Boston interests have been given opportunity to be heard.

The House committee yesterday gave San Francisco's ambitions a setback by allowing two weeks for New Orleans to send a delegation here. A hearing will be given that city on May 25. The committee also decided to give a hearing at the same time, both to Boston and to Washington.

In view of Boston's possible interest in the matter, Mr. Ames last night sent the following telegram to Mayor Fitzgerald: "I desire to call attention of city of Boston to efforts being made to commit Congress to a Panama Canal exposition to be held in 1915. San Francisco, New Orleans, and Washington are urging their claims before the Committee on Foreign Affairs, of which I am a member. There will be a hearing before the committee on Thursday, May 26, for those favoring New Orleans. Will Boston desire an opportunity for a hearing?"

The Foreign Affairs Committee has decided to report on the Kahn resolution at the present session of Congress. It seems likely that the site of the proposed exposition will be settled in a few weeks.

To Widen Benning Road.

Senator Scott has submitted to the Senate a petition signed by several thousand citizens, asking for the passage of a law by Congress for the widening of Benning road.

Senate Nominations.

The following nominations were sent to the Senate yesterday:

TREASURY.
Albert G. Towser, of Maryland, to be naval officer in the district of Baltimore, Md.
Robert A. Ravenscroft, of Maryland, to be surveyor of customs for the port of Baltimore.
Charles C. Pusey, of Maryland, to be Assistant Treasurer of the United States, at Baltimore.

INTERIOR.
Lewis S. Call to be register of the Land Office at Rapid City, S. Dak.

Ferrell's Row

Over and above all my first thought has been to create value and to give it. Fronting beautiful Kendall Green, on Florida avenue, between 7th and 8th sts. ne., I have just built some six-room houses of different design, with latest improvements.

These houses are homes. Just the kind of a home you want. Homes with bath, instantaneous water heater, porcelain-lined ranges, electric and gas lights, front and back porches.

Every house can be bought for $200 cash and the balance of the purchase price, $3,500 or $4,250, paid the same as rent.

Come out and see what attractive places these houses are. Maybe you will find just the house you want for investment as well as a home. A Ferrell house at the price is without an equal.

Take Florida Avenue cars to 7th or 8th st. ne.

FORDNEY ASSAILS SENATOR BEVERIDGE

Defends Tariff in Humorous Speech in House.

ADMONISHED BY THE CHAIR

Michigan Standpatter Says that Not Everything Said of Payne Law by Indiana Senator Could Be Substantiated by Facts—Wants Tariff Commission Stricken from Bill.

Representative Fordney, a standpatter from Standpatterville, Mich., was reminded of the rules by the presiding officer in the House yesterday for some of his criticisms of Senator Beveridge, of Indiana. Mr. Fordney, who is a member of the Ways and Means Committee, which framed the Payne tariff law, defended that act in a characteristic campaign speech, in the course of which he had some harsh things to say of the member of the other body who was one of the insurgents on the tariff.

Not everything that Senator Beveridge had said of the tariff law, declared Mr. Fordney, could be substantiated by facts. His reference to a member of the Senate finally moved Representative Mann, of Illinois, who was in the chair, to administer an admonition.

Mr. Fordney opposed the item in the sundry civil appropriation bill giving $250,000 for a tariff commission. He was willing, he said, to give the President all the money he needed for tariff "boards" under the Payne law, but he was against a "commission."

"A tariff commission would raise the devil from sunrise to sunset," declared the Michigan lumberman. "If you want a hornet's nest, create a tariff commission, and it will be on the nose of every man in the country."

Opposed to Commission.

"I hope the Appropriations Committee will agree to an amendment to the sundry civil bill to strike this provision out," Chairman Tawney, of the committee, said there was no provision for a tariff commission in the bill. But this didn't satisfy Mr. Fordney, who asserted that it would be impossible to delegate more authority to a tariff commission than had been given to the tariff board by the bill. Mr. Fordney said he believed in a high protective tariff, and he didn't care who knew it. He believed, moreover, that not only his constituents, but a majority of the people of the country endorsed his position. He declared that as long as he had a vote in the House it would be cast in that direction.

"And," he added, amid a roar of Republican applause, "I am mistaken in my surmise, I will go down with flying colors."

Like Mr. Payne on Thursday, Mr. Fordney sounded the Republican slogan for the coming Congressional campaign—"The best tariff law ever enacted."

Convulsed the House.

A frankly speaking, vigorous Westerner, Mr. Fordney at times convulsed his audience by the plainness of his language. As he drew to a close, he again referred to Senator Beveridge's criticisms of the bill. In this connection he told a story.

"There was a certain lawyer trying a case," he said, "who finally became exasperated. 'Your honor,' he said, 'I would as soon try to shoot skyrockets into hell for illuminating purposes as to try to get the truth out of this witness.'"

It took the House about five minutes to recover from this witticism.

Notified that his time had expired, Mr. Fordney said, seriously:

"If I had more time I would like to go into stockings and champagne."

TELEPOST BILL CONSIDERED.

Senate District Committee Dismisses Franchise for New Company.

The only business yesterday at the weekly meeting of the Senate District Committee was a discussion of the bill granting a franchise to the Telepost Company to enter the District and operate lines. No action was taken. Some of the members of the committee were told the franchise was desired to enable the company to sell stock. The bill has passed the House, and the fate of the company, whose lines are said to be practically at the District boundary, rests with the Senate.

At a recent hearing, assurances were given that the company had secured a right of way from New York, and that a franchise to enter the District was desired in order that the concern might engage actively in business here. Before the next meeting of the committee an inquiry will be made.

YESTERDAY IN CONGRESS.

(MAY 13, 1910.)

SENATE.

The long and short haul amendment to the administration railroad bill was adopted by the Senate yesterday. It was a compromise. The Democrats desired that the bill be passed without amendment, and the Republicans desired that it be amended to make terms. The insurgents are angry at the outcome of their fight.

The amendment was taken up by agreement at 4 o'clock. Prior to that hour speeches on the bill were delivered by Senators Heyburn and Eliot.

The Senate adjourned at 6:10 p. m. until Monday morning at 11 o'clock.

HOUSE.

The House yesterday passed eighteen pension and claims bills. The most important of these was the bill relieving Thomas J. Akiba, now postmaster at St. Louis, formerly subtreasurer there, of responsibility in connection with a shortage of $61,500 in the treasury during his administration, in 1906.

Consideration of the sundry civil appropriation bill, under general debate, was resumed.

A tariff speech was delivered by Representative Fordney, of Michigan, in which he severely criticized Senator Beveridge, of Indiana.

The House adjourned at 5:25 p. m. until 11 o'clock this morning.

OBJECTS TO DAVIS STATUE

William H. Gibson Post Sends Petition to Senator Burton.

Resolution Protests Against Memorial to Southern Heroes in Hall of Fame.

The possibility of the arrival of a statue of Jefferson Davis in Washington, as a contribution of Mississippi has aroused the ire of William H. Gibson Post No. 31, at Jefferson, Ohio.

Senator Burton, of Ohio, yesterday presented a petition from that organization protesting not only against the presence of a statue of Jefferson Davis at the National Capitol, but against the acceptance of the Robert E. Lee statue as well. The resolution, adopted by the Tiffin (Ohio) Post recites that "a certain State senator of Mississippi has introduced a resolution serving notice that Mississippi is going to offer to place in the 'Hall of Fame' at Washington a bronze statue of Jefferson Davis, late President of the Confederacy."

The resolution "earnestly protests against placing statues of those men side by side with those of the loyal men who gave their lives for the nation's welfare."

The petition further declares: "When the so-called Daughters of the Southern Confederacy erected a monument bearing false inscriptions in honor of that most detestable creature, Capt. Wirz, of Andersonville fame, and the placing of the name of Jefferson Davis on the silver service of a United States battle ship, and now proposing to place statues named in the Capitol, cannot but be regarded by us as a direct insult to the patriotic and magnanimous heart of the North and to every man who wore the blue."

ESTIMATES SENT TO SENATE.

Sum of $220,000 Asked for Enlargement of Patent Office.

In estimates submitted to the Senate $220,000 is asked for the enlargement of the Patent Office and $250,000 for steel stacks for the scientific library of the department. Other estimates were for $80,000 for the enlargement of the heating plant of Howard University and Freedmen's Hospital.

Officials of the Interior Department in their report declare the Patent Office lacks sufficient space. It is proposed to erect a four-story stone structure over the entire interior court. The addition will contain thirty-two rooms, for the accommodation of 200 employees.

BANKRUPTCY BILL READY.

Senate Judiciary Committee Adds Several Amendments.

The Senate Committee on Judiciary yesterday agreed to report the bill which has heretofore passed the House amending the national bankruptcy laws. The Senate committee made important amendments in the measure, the most significant relating to the compensation of receivers. Under the terms of the bill as amended receivers in bankruptcy will hereafter receive compensation under a graduated scale.

In cases of a foreclosure sale the receiver shall be given 6 per cent on the first $500 received, 4 per cent on the next $1,000, 2 per cent on the next $5,000, and 1 per cent on all above that. Where the bankrupt estate is a going concern the compensation shall be double the above percentages, computed on the proceeds of the business.

If the receiver is only a custodian of property, he shall receive as compensation 2 per cent on the first $1,000 worth of the estate in his hands and one-half of 1 per cent on all above $1,000.

Another amendment provides that creditors shall have ten days' notice of any contemplated action by the receiver or the court.

SCORES AGAINST BALLINGER

Pinchot's Attorney Shows How Complaints Were Manufactured.

Secretary of Interior Faces Cold Fact of His Signature to Western Editor.

In closing his cross-examination of Secretary Ballinger yesterday, George W. Peppin, attorney for Gifford Pinchot, placed in evidence a copy of the Montgomery Times, of Mount Ida, Ark., containing a letter from Don C. Carr, private secretary to Mr. Ballinger, asking for letters and affidavits in criticism of the Forest Service. This letter was addressed to the editor of the paper, and was written on January 3, and said, in part:

"It is suggested that as Congress will probably make an examination of the Forest Service, you might with propriety secure such affidavits of the character referred to in your editorial and submit them to the committee having charge of this investigation, of which Hon. Knute Nelson, United States Senator, will probably be chairman."

The same paper contained the following editorial:

"We would call the householder's attention to the letter from the Department of the Interior published in the upper right corner of our editorial page. This letter is from an under secretary. In addition, we have a personal letter from Secretary Ballinger himself. You are requested to send us your affidavits in reference to irregularities charged against the Forest Service in our article on the first page. You need not fear that you will fail to make good on account of such affidavits. We will guard your interests."

Mr. Pepper introduced this in answer to the statement of Chairman Nelson that the committee had received complaints against the Forest Service, it being his purpose to show how these complaints had originated. Secretary Ballinger in response to Mr. Pepper's question said he had not known anything about Mr. Carr's letter, and that if he himself had written the editor he could not recall the letter.

On indirect examination copies of Mr. Ballinger's letter to the editor and the editor's original letter complaining of the Forest Service were introduced.

H. H. Schwartz, chief of the field division of the General Land Office, whose home is at Helena, Mont., followed Secretary Ballinger. In the course of his testimony Mr. Schwartz stated that his experience in the Land Office had forced him to the conclusion that the General Land Office, which is in the Interior Department, and the Forest Service, which is in the Department of Agriculture, should be in the same department, "under some one who can put an end to all conflicts."

"UNCLE JOE" TWISTED.

House Meets, He Said, to Adjourn Tomorrow Morning at Eleven.

Speaker Cannon got all tangled up yesterday when entertaining Mr. Tawney's motion that the House meet at 11 o'clock this morning.

"The gentleman from Minnesota moves," said the Speaker, with a bang of his gavel, "that the House meets this evening to adjourn at 11 o'clock to-morrow."

HEARING ON OSTEOPATHY.

Hearings occurred last night and yesterday morning on the bill now pending before the House to license the practice of osteopathy in the District. It is a measure introduced by Representative Smith, submitted by the Commissioners as a substitute for the bill of Representative McCall, of Massachusetts. The hearings took place before the District Committee of the House.

Yesterday morning George H. Shibley, attorney for the Osteopathic Association of the District, appeared in support of the bill. At 8 o'clock last night Dr. J. B. G. Custis and Dr. John D. Thomas were heard in opposition.

Numerous hearings on the bill have been held during the present session of Congress, and the committee is now considering certain minor amendments to the measure.
